Richmond Education Assistant Program (REAP)

Part Time REAP 2022

January 2022 – February 2023

~ PROGRAM INFORMATION ~

Part Time REAP 2022 courses will be delivered remotely and online via Zoom and other online platforms. There will be some occasions when students will be required to attend classes in person. Also, all practica will be in person in Richmond School District schools.

The Richmond Education Assistant Program (REAP) is designed for professional and caring adults who wish to work with K-12 school age learners with physical, behavioural, sensory and learning needs in schools. REAP participants will learn about the role and responsibilities of Education Assistants, child development, personal and health care, current issues in education, theories and principles of learning, team work and communication, curriculum and learning resources, understanding behaviour management as well as other relevant job-related topics and skills. Participants must have sufficient physical ability to perform activities such as supervision on the playground/gymnasium as well as perform activities such as the physical lifting of students.

Participants will be in a Part Time program that will begin in early January 2022 and end in early March, 2023. There are eleven courses, two practica and a learning portofolio. All instructors are highly qualified with specialty training and experience in their fields.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW (Part Time REAP 2022)

Courses will be held remotely and online from 6:00-9:00 pm on Mondays and Wednesdays and a series of Saturdays from 9:00 am - 3:30 pm. Zoom will be the platform that will be used. Zoom can be accessed via a tablet, iphone or laptop. It is important to ensure that you have access to both audio and video components of your device as well as good internet connectivity. There may be a few occasions in which students will be asked to attend in-person sessions in which health and safety protocols will be in place.

There are two practica which will be held at various schools in the Richmond School District during regular school hours Monday through Friday. The exact start and end times of the practica will depend on the schedule of the school placement.

ASSESSMENT & EVALUATION

REAP learners will be assessed and evaluated on their knowledge, and understanding of major concepts as well as their ability to demonstrate the necessary responsibilities of an Education Assistant. Assessment will be ongoing throughout courses and practica through written and oral assignments, case studies, individual and group presentations, quizzes, tests and demonstrations. Assessments will be based predetermined descriptions called rubrics. Feedback to each learner will be provided on an ongoing basis and a final mark will be given at the conclusion of each course..

A minimum of 70% is required to pass all courses (except REAP 200, 220, REAP 400, REAP 600, REAP 610). Letter grades will be assigned as follows:

A+	93% - 100%
A	85% - 92%
B	77% - 84%
C+	70% - 76% = pass
F	0% - 69% = fail

For the Learning Portfolio and Practica:

Guidelines and expectations will be provided for compiling the Learning Portfolio (REAP 610) and an evaluation rubric will be used for each practicum (REAP 400 and REAP 600). The final mark for each of these will be either pass or fail.

REAP CERTIFICATE

To pass the REAP program, students must earn a minimum of C+ in all courses, a Pass on each of their Practica and a Pass on REAP 200, REAP 220 and REAP 610

ATTENDANCE

In order to ensure that you get the full benefit of the learning and preparation as an Education Assistant, 100% attendance is expected for all courses and practica. Please make arrangements to ensure that you are able to attend fully by scheduling vacations and other events around courses and the practica. If there are unavoidable absences, e.g. illness, you are responsible to inform your instructor to determine what was missed and if anything could be made up.

BURSARY

There is a limited amount of funding available for financial hardship situations.

CODE OF CONDUCT

The Richmond Board of Education recognizes its obligation to all members of the school community to provide a positive climate and a safe, healthy environment such that effective, purposeful teaching and learning may take place. To that end it is expected that all members of the school community will conduct themselves in an ethical and lawful manner that demonstrates respect for self, others, property and the environment. The District Code of Conduct shall apply in all school district buildings and at school functions.

PRIVACY & CONFIDENTIALITY

As a participant of REAP, you will encounter information and situations of a personal nature. It is expected that you keep such information and situations private and confidential. Please refrain from taking photos, videos or audio recordings of students or sharing details about specific situations with family, friends or others. Breach of privacy and confidentiality is a serious offense and will be dealt with accordingly.

STATUTORY HOLIDAYS & CANCELLED CLASS SESSIONS

There will be no classes on statutory holidays (e.g. Labour Day, Family Day, Thanksgiving Day). If there is a need to cancel a class session (e.g. due to illness of an instructor, extreme weather conditions), a make up session will be organized and communicated as soon as possible.

TEXT BOOKS AND TECHNOLOGY

There are no textbooks that need to be purchased. Instructors will provide all course materials. REAP learners are required to have access to either a laptop or a desktop computer with sound and a camera along with a good internet connectivity.

WITHDRAWALS & REFUNDS

Participants must contact the Continuing Education Office, RCE@sd38.bc.ca, to withdraw from the program. Refunds are available until Friday, December 10, 2021 and are subject to a 10% processing charge. After Friday, December 10, 2021, there are no refunds.

NOTE: Richmond Continuing Education reserves the right to make changes (e.g. instructors, times, dates, location, course content) to the program as conditions warrant.

COURSE OVERVIEWS

REAP 100: EA Roles and Responsibilities

Students will explore the roles and responsibilities of the Education Assistant in supporting learning in inclusive schools. They will also explore the importance of collaborative partnerships and communication to support inclusive school communities. Understanding and applying the principles of inclusion will be critical for this course. Team building strategies will occur daily so the students will become a cohesive and supportive cohort.

REAP 110: Team Building and Effective Communication

Students will explore the basic principles of effective interpersonal communication. They will examine their own style of communicating and develop an understanding of the components of both verbal and non-verbal communication. Students will also examine the concepts of power and conflict in interpersonal communication and learn to use effective conflict resolution strategies in a variety of contexts.

REAP 120: Child and Youth Development

Students will be introduced to an overview of philosophical and theoretical orientations that have influenced the understanding of child and youth development. Issues related to social, physical, emotional, cognitive and creative development will be highlighted. Orientations and issues will be explored together with relevant research.

REAP 130: Supporting Students with Special Needs

Students will develop an understanding of the nature and characteristics of students with special needs. These needs will include disabilities of an intellectual, physical, sensory, emotional, or behavioural nature. Students will also learn strategies for supporting these students.

REAP 200: Personal and Health Care

Students will explore health and personal care issues for children and adolescents with disabilities and the role of the Education Assistant in supporting them. They will practice selected skills necessary to provide health and personal care support.

REAP 210: Current Issues in Education

Students will examine the current issues in education in elementary and secondary schools in British Columbia. They will explore: educational theory and the principles of learning; key areas of the revised

BC curriculum and the First Peoples' principles of learning; anti-racism, Universal Design for Learning (UDL) and its impact on teaching and learning; inquiry-based learning and a three-tiered continuum of academic and behavioural support.

REAP 220: Nonviolent Crisis Intervention

This course focuses on the prevention of problem behaviours. Participants learn proven strategies for safely defusing anxious, hostile or violent behaviour at the earliest possible stage.

REAP 300: Curriculum and Learning Resources

Students will explore the elements and processes of effective instructional support and the role of the EA in that process. They will learn about adaptations and modifications of curricula to be able to respond to a variety of student learning needs. They will be introduced to the basic elements of literacy and numeracy learning. Students will also explore models of learning such as Multiple Intelligences Theory and how such approaches assist in adapting and modifying curricula. They will also learn to create visual supports for a wide variety of students' communicative, learning and behavioural needs using a software program known as BoardMaker.

REAP 310: Understanding Behaviour

Students will examine the principles of positive behaviour support and social emotional learning. They will identify key principles of behaviour and understand what issues are most commonly linked to problem behaviour. They will also learn and understand behavioural/mental health diagnostic criteria and supports, learn how to observe and record behaviour and understand their role as a member of a behaviour change team.

REAP 400: Practicum One

Students will participate in a three-week, full-time practicum in an elementary or secondary school setting. They will observe, assist and work with children and/or adolescents requiring learning, behavioural, and/or physical support under the guidance and supervision of professional staff, particularly the EA Mentor. REAP students will also be supported by a Practicum Supervisor.

REAP 510: Current Issues in Supporting Students with Special Needs

Students will examine and reflect upon the philosophical, historical, organizational and daily aspects of inclusive schooling. They will investigate patterns of diversity, possible implications of specific disabilities and how individual strengths and needs may be supported in the classroom. Students will examine their role and personal values, beliefs and attitudes in supporting students with special needs and teachers in the school and community.

REAP 500: Introduction to Autism Spectrum Disorders: Practical Applications

Students will develop an understanding of the nature and characteristics of students with autism spectrum disorders. They will examine the current research on effective practices for supporting students with autism spectrum disorders in a variety of educational settings. Students will also explore functional behavioural assessment practices, positive behaviour supports and a wide range of strategies and materials that enhance learning, communication and social skills.

REAP 600: Practicum Two

Students will integrate and apply the theoretical concepts from their coursework in a final four-week practicum that is a full-time experience in an elementary or secondary school setting. They will actively observe, assist and work with children and/or adolescents requiring learning, behavioural and/or physical support under the guidance and supervision of professional staff, particularly the EA Mentor. REAP students will also be supported by a Practicum Supervisor.

REAP 610: Learning Portfolio

The Learning Portfolio is a compilation of academic work and other forms of educational evidence regarding the student's learning throughout the REAP program. It is an opportunity to organize and synthesize key learnings and reflect on their impact on their future role as an Education Assistant. Students will present their personal profile, articulate their philosophy, provide artifacts that reflect the practical applications of their role and reflect on goals for the future.

NOTE: If you have any questions or comments about these course overviews, please contact our REAP Administrator, Kathleen Champion → kchampion@sd38.bc.ca
