Reclaiming Play: Revitalizing Childhood to Combat Anxiety and Aggression

February 25, 2025
6:30 – 8 p.m.

Children are becoming more anxious and aggressive. The common thread? A stark decline in free play. After this session, you may never see play the same way again. Our current culture has replaced play with entertainment and structured activities. We are now seeing the emotional side effects of the loss of play in the lives of children as aggression and anxiety in young people is at an all-time high.

Little changes can have big effects. Join Hannah for a powerful workshop that will help you discover practical ways to transform your family culture and support your children in becoming their best selves.

Closed captioning in multiple languages will be available for participants.

Conferences

We are excited to invite you to our upcoming Conferences, where we aim to strengthen the partnership between home and school for the benefit of your child's education!

Conferences

On Tuesday, February 25 and Thursday, February 27, all students will be dismissed at 1:45 for conferences. Your child's teacher may also offer conference times outside of these dates. If you are unable to make one of the conference times offered, please get in touch with your child's teacher to find a different time.

Why is it important for all families to schedule a time to speak with their child's teacher?

Conferences are an opportunity for families to learn about their child's progress and to participate in their child's education. Conferences help families and the school to work together to set goals for student learning and to identify areas of growth. Families can also prepare questions to ask their child's teachers. When we work together, we set the best environment for student success!
